Dear all,

Welcome as ever to our weekly newsletter. I hope this finds you and all of your family well.

The weather has definitely become more winter like this week with thick coats and scarves etc being worn by many!

This week in school:

Once again, the behaviour, attitudes and learning around school this week have been fantastic. I think in all of my time at Carlton - I'm into my 7th year now – I haven't known a more settled and positive term, and that is despite the back drop of Covid still being a factor. I am super proud of the staff team and children alike.

Reception and Year 1 have been rehearsing their production. Mrs Smith and Mrs Sierotko's Young Voices Choir have been singing well. I love hearing the happy sound of singing reverberating through school!

It has been lovely having Miss Edenbrow in school for some of this week -getting to know the children in Himalayas and in other classes.

Charitable updates:

The final amount we paid in to the wonderful Children in Need appeal was £195.10

I am also delighted to give you an update about how much was collected and donated (including for merchandise) for The British Legion Poppy appeal 2021 was £285.25.

Thank you for supporting these brilliant charities and well done to all!

Looking ahead:

- On Tuesday (30th November) next week our Year 3 and Year 4 children are having the super opportunity of attending the 'Kings church Christmas experience' visit.
- I will be making a final decision next week on whether we will be able to invite parents into to the Alps and Atlas Christmas performance (provisionally booked for Wed 8th December)
- On Monday we will be sharing information about parent teacher meetings for Himalayas class. This will be held on Monday 6th December. We want to ensure that parents of Year 3 have the opportunity to meet with Miss Marshall before she begins her maternity leave. Miss Edenbrow will also be present at the meetings to support transition.
- More information next week about our 'Christmas at Carlton Week' (final week of term) which includes, our Church service, Christmas lunch, Christmas Jumper day, Christmas parties and of course our whole school Panto Visit.
