Key Knowledge

Food that is grown or reared is seasonal – this means only certain types of food can be grown at certain times of year. For example,

The Eat Well Plate shows us the different types of food that make up our diet and shows the proportions – how much – we should eat to have a balanced diet.

Pizza is a savoury dish made of a round flat base, topped with tomatoes, cheese and often other toppings, then baked in the oven at a high temperature.

A pizza base is made of dough which must be kneaded with your hands. Vegetarians do not eat meat or fish.
