I can know some weather types	Before <input type="checkbox"/>	After <input type="checkbox"/>
I can know the four main points of the compass	Before <input type="checkbox"/>	After <input type="checkbox"/>
I can use the present tense to talk about the weather	Before <input type="checkbox"/>	After <input type="checkbox"/>

Key Knowledge

- We can explore regions in France and all over the world to explore what the weather is like there. We use the short word, à + town name, which means 'In...'
- We can build on our previous knowledge of days of the week to help us have a conversation about the weather.
- When we are learning the French compass points we can turn our body to help us remember each stage. The 4 main points of the compass sound similar in French and English. We do not pronounce the 'd' on the end of 'nord'.
